Revised School Dental Formats

The Family Health Bureau has revised the following dental formats used in the National School Dental Programme in response to the current requirement and to collect data for the two oral health preventative programmes, National Fluoride Varnish Programme and School- Based Fissure Sealant Programme that will be implemented in 2024.

1. Monthly Return- School Dental Clinics H 982
2. Examination and History Chart H 975
3. Daily Record of Treatments H974

We believe that these revised formats will streamline record-keeping and enhance the accuracy of data recorded in the school dental program. This, in turn, will help us better assess the oral health status of school children and improve the quality of our services. The instruction sheet has been developed to explain the necessary changes to the formats and is attached here for the review of the relevant officers. The supportive documents of the formats are also available here as e-copies (Fluoride Varnish Application Card). The fluoride varnish application card printed version will be issued in due course.

We kindly request to disseminate the updated formats along with the instruction sheet to all the relevant personnel within your province. The new set of formats will be sent to the relevant provinces at the end of February 2024. We also encourage feedback and suggestions from the field to ensure that these changes are well-implemented and practical in the day-to-day operations of the school dental program.

We have uploaded the revised dental formats, instruction sheet, and supportive documents to the Family Health Bureau website. Please use the following link to refer to them.
